Josh Gottheimer represents New Jersey's Fifth Congressional District in the northernmost part of the state, which includes parts of Bergen, Passaic, Sussex and Warren counties.

After graduating from the University of Pennsylvania, Josh worked as a speechwriter for President Bill Clinton, helping draft two State of the Union addresses. He then went on to Harvard Law School and has an extensive array of private sector experience, working at Ford Motor Company and Microsoft. Josh also served at the Federal Communications Commission and the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Josh serves on the House Financial Services Committee. In February, Josh was elected Co-Chair of the bipartisan Problem Solvers Caucus, where he is working with Democrats and Republicans to lower taxes and fix our roads and bridges so we can move the country forward.

Josh lives in Wyckoff, New Jersey with Marla, his wife, who was a federal prosecutor, and their two young children.
